Privacy Policy

Valour Canada respects, recognizes, and adheres to the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (“PIPEDA”) and also follows an organizational Privacy Policy whereby:

- Personal information is only gathered for purposes that are disclosed at the time the information is gathered;
- Personal information is protected and used only for the purposes as stated; and
- Any further use of information, for purposes other than those stated, requires the written consent of the individual.